Looking for Answers? The NCAC Parent Library is here for you!

The National Children's Advocacy Center's Parent Library is open to parents and professionals who work with parents. The library houses books, videos and DVD's that provide information to help parents increase knowledge and expand parenting skills. The library includes resources on topics including infant care, single parenting, school success, fatherhood, and special needs to name a few. The Parent Library is located in the NCAC's Community Services Building and is open to the public. For an appointment please contact Tara Hunter at 256-533-5437.

Professionals can also find resources at the Child Abuse Library Online, CALiO.

Cement Your Legacy in the Fight Against Child Abuse!

This is the last chance this year to "Cement Your Legacy" in the fight against child abuse by purchasing a brick that will be placed in the backyard of the NCAC campus. If you are interested in honoring or remembering your loved ones, recognizing your church, organization or place of business now is the time to turn in your order. Bricks start at only $50. All of the proceeds from the sales will support local NCAC programs and services.

To learn more about sizes and prices or to print an order form, please visit our website at www.nationalcac.org or call 256-533-KIDS (5437). Deadline to order is August 31, 2009.

Please Note: Heroes in Training has been postponed until December 2010. Heroes in Training is a relay team fundraiser to support the services of the National Children's Advocacy Center. The relay will be held in conjunction with the Rocket City Marathon.
